THE NEWSLETTER OF THE MARYLAND COLLEGE STUDENT PERSONNEL PROGRAM

VOLUME 25 NUMBER 7

FEBRUARY 2012

Congratulations and Updates!

Our second experience studying student affairs in the Qatar occurred in January 2012. Led by doctoral student, Ramsey Jabaji, the Maryland team included students from CSP, higher education, and international education policy. Our team appears with Dr. Denny Roberts (fellow Terp) in the picture. The Maryland team partnered with students from Colorado State University and staff in Qatar for a three day Young Professional Institute as part of the experience!

Check out this article in The Peninsula, a newspaper in the Arabian Gulf region:

American students visit Qatar to boost educational ties...
01/11/2012 DOHA: A group of 22 students from the University of Maryland and Colorado State University in the United States visited Qatar to engage in dialogue with a number of young Qatari professionals in the higher education sector. <http://www.thepeninsulaqatar.com/latest-news/179215-american-students-visit-qatar-to-boost-educational-ties.html>

Check out Beth Niehaus's piece "Study Abroad as a Strategy for Internationalization: Challenges and Opportunities" in the winter issue of Initiatives (the magazine of the college's international programs office).

Nicole Long is now an assessment research analyst at Prince George's Community College; congrats Nicole!
