

PROJECT 7

We Are Entomologists

Goal

Children investigate the biology of butterflies and the plants and flowers that give them food.

What

During We Are Entomologists, children have an opportunity to study how butterflies move, eat, use their senses, and hide.

Why

Children use their sense of wonder to observe and explore the smallest living things in their natural world.

Community

Children talk with an expert gardener about their questions and design a garden that is an ideal home for butterflies.

Family

Family members try to hide like butterflies, act out its life cycle, plant seeds, and visit a butterfly garden.
