

Goals

Children identify their body parts and demonstrate what their bodies can do.

What

During Busy Bodies, children identify different parts of their bodies, demonstrate how their bodies can move, explore with their five senses, and investigate how their organs work together.

Why

Everybody has a body. Four-year-olds are naturally curious about how their bodies work and what their bodies can do.

Community

Children interview a local health expert to gain understanding about their bodies.

Family

Family members can volunteer as guest speakers, take part in a Gallery Walk event to help children celebrate all that they have learned, and support children's learning at home.

Copyright University of Maryland 2018