

THIS AND THAT

LANGUAGE STUDY

We are interested in how kids develop preferences for word order in common phrases like “peanut butter and jelly”!

I think that's peanut butter and jelly.

I think that's jelly and peanut butter.

How does it work?
Participants will watch short videos of Frog and Bear describing images, then choose whose description they liked better.

Children are eligible if they:

- are 3-5 years old
- hear and speak mostly English at home and at school
- do not have a significant history of speech, language, or cognitive disorders

Sign up at

GO.UMD.EDU/THISORTHAT

or scan:

